

Another Mother Does Not Come When Yours Dies

POEMS BY

Mubanga Kalimamukwento

Mubanga Kalimamukwento's multi-lingual, hybrid collection of essays and poems, Another Mother Does Not Come When Yours Dies, is a kaleidoscope of emotions: at once self-excitation and epitaph, exhumation and burial song. These words are a conversation between the present and the past.

Kalimamukwento deftly navigates the aftermath of devastating personal losses, particularly that of her mother. Through them, she invites readers to reflect on their own experiences of loss and the enduring impact of familial bonds.

Published by Wayfarer Books

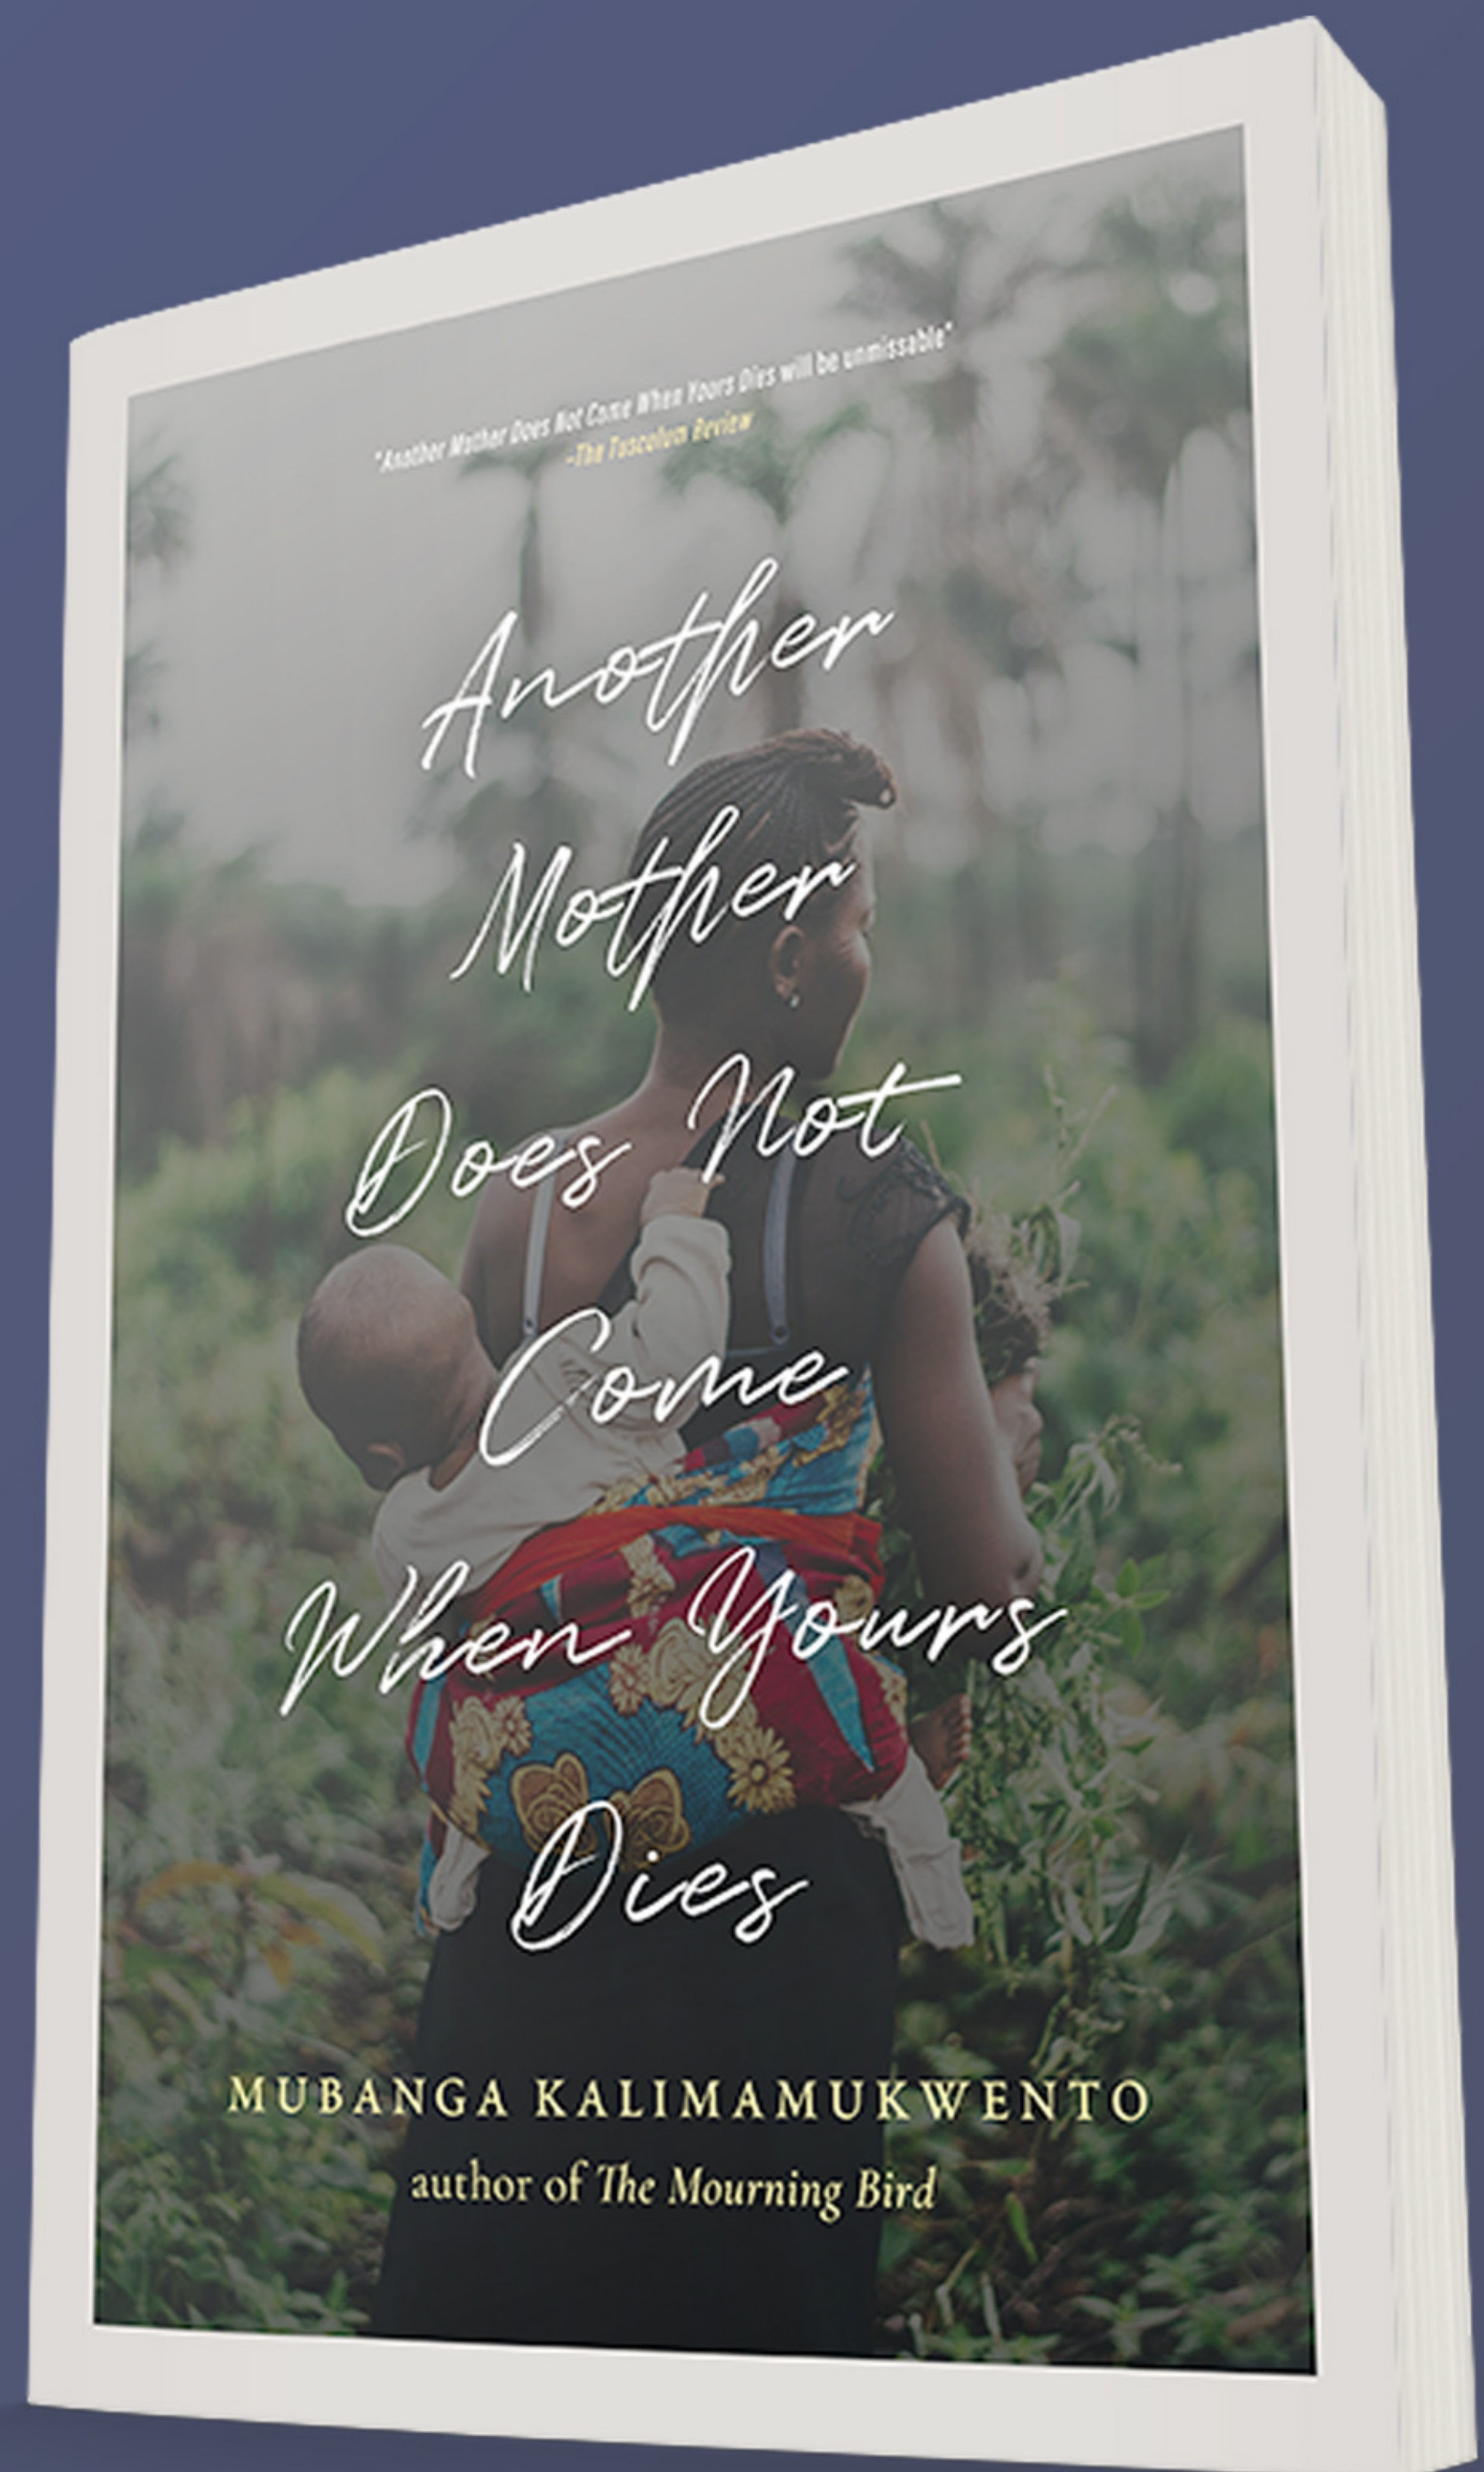

PBK 978-1-965320-31-0

Pub: April 22, 2025 / Trade Paperback / 120pp / 6 x 9

Press Contact: wayfarer@homeboundpublications.com

All Wayfarer titles are globally distributed by Ingram.

We offer the Standard Trade Discount & Full Returnability.

"Another Mother Does Not Come When Yours Dies will be unmissable"
-The Tusculum Review

Shortlisted for the 2023 CAAPP Book Prize
(Center for African American Poetry and Poetics)*

MUBANGA KALIMAMUKWENTO is a Zambian poet; her poetry has appeared or is forthcoming in the Tusculum Review, Contemporary Verse 2, and Passengers Journal and has been translated into Italian by Menelique. She won the 2021 Deborah Keenan Poetry Scholarship and the 2022 Tusculum Review Poetry Chapbook Prize, selected by Carmen Giménez.

